MEDIA ALERT

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Humane Society of North Texas Collecting Emergency Supplies for Central Texas Flood Relief Flight

FORT WORTH, Texas — Following the catastrophic flooding across Central Texas, the Humane Society of North Texas (HSNT) is partnering with Wings of Rescue and additional community partners to provide urgently needed assistance to impacted communities.

Early tomorrow morning, Wings of Rescue® will fly a plane carrying unowned and abandoned dogs and cats from Central Texas to Best Friends Animal Society in Salt Lake City. By transporting these shelter pets to adoption partners, critical kennel space is opened so local shelters can focus on housing displaced pets while families search for and reunite with their beloved animals.

Early next week, Wings of Rescue will return with a second flight carrying North Texas humanitarian and veterinary aid directly to Uvalde and surrounding communities. HSNT is asking North Texans to help fill that aircraft with desperately needed supplies before the flight departs.

Most Needed Items

- Wet and dry dog food
- Wet and dry cat food
- Cases or pallets of bottled water
- Trash bags
- Gallon-size Ziploc bags
- Blankets, sheets, and towels
- Plastic pet travel crates (all sizes)

Donation Drop-Off Locations

HSNT Fort Worth

Friday, Saturday & Sunday
Until 6:00 p.m.

HSNT Keller

Friday & Saturday (closed Sunday)
Until 6:00 p.m.

Deadline: All donations must be received by Sunday evening to be loaded onto the relief flight.

Additional Ways to Help

Those unable to drop off supplies can make a monetary donation at HSNT.org/donate. Please include “Flood Relief” in the donation notes so funds can be used to purchase emergency supplies for the flight.

Supporters can also donate directly to Wings of Rescue to help provide humanitarian aid, veterinary supplies, and flight support for ongoing disaster relief efforts.
